IN THE WAKE

BY LISA KRON

DIRECTED BY JOSH HECHT
Welcome to the fourth production of our 2018–2019 season!

For our 21st season, we’re doing something special: an 18-month “double-season” featuring the works of Anna Deavere Smith and Lisa Kron. Patrons have been on a year-long journey, seeing the world through the eyes of our Featured Writer. Lisa Kron may now feel like an old friend to some of you. For those eager to learn more about this smart and funny writer, welcome to her “Playwright Profile.”

Lisa grew up in Lansing, Michigan and like many artists, moved to New York after college. As a teenager and young woman in Michigan and in New York, she pursued acting in straight plays, increasingly dissatisfied with the roles for women, and especially LGBTQ women. Seeing the work of the pioneering group Split Britches had a profound impact. Lisa writes, “It was so beautiful and complete and so utterly unlike anything I had ever seen before. It was strange yet totally familiar. Funny and heartbreaking and so sexy. It was nonlinear — that blew my Midwestern MIND. And — they made it themselves. To me this was a revelation.”

Through Split Britches, Lisa found her way to the WOW Cafe, a hot-bed for experimental lesbian-centered work in New York’s East Village, the city’s bohemian heart. At WOW’s tiny storefront theatre she found a like-minded tribe of theatre-makers devising their own work, writing their own plays, sometimes in a few months, sometimes in a few days, with sets and costumes made from found materials. It was here that she started doing her own solo work. And it was here that she, her girlfriend Peg Healy, and friends Maureen Angelos, Babs Davy, and Dominique Dibbell, formed The Five Lesbian Brothers.

Throughout the ’90s, both Lisa’s solo work and the plays created with the Brothers gained increasing prominence, and were produced throughout New York at PS 122, The Kitchen, Dixon Place, HERE Arts Center and eventually at large off-Broadway venues like New York Theatre Workshop, and in 1997, The Public Theater, where 2.5 Minute Ride opened to rave reviews, winning OBIE, Drama-logue and GLAAD Awards.

The Public Theater became an artistic home for Lisa, developing and producing her plays Well, which transferred to Broadway, earning Tony nominations for Lisa and co-star Jayne Houdyshell; In The Wake, Lisa’s most traditionally well-made play; and Fun Home, her musical written with Tony-winning composer Jeanine Tessori, which also transferred to Broadway, winning 5 of its 12 Tony nominations, including Best Musical of 2015.

Throughout it all, what makes Lisa’s writing indelibly Lisa’s is her interest in the mix of theatrical forms — from the straight play to solo story-telling to ensemble-generated work, sometimes co-existing in the same piece — her commitment to politically-engaged work, and her conviction that laughter and tears, joy and sorrow, can inhabit the same moment.
I’m often told, as a producer of contemporary plays that explore the urgent questions of our time, that I’m “preaching to the choir.” We live in a city that prides itself as a bastion of progressive politics. And it is generally assumed that those who seek out contemporary plays sit comfortably on the left, or at least in the center, of our body politic. It’s true the Arts have always drawn a certain kind of (dare I say it, perhaps I’ll rehabilitate the word) liberal, among an audience that I hope is increasingly wide-ranging in point of view, experience, and history. So when people tell me I’m preaching to the choir, I tend to think, perhaps. And I often find myself responding, “the choir needs more convincing than we like to think.”

Part of what I love about In The Wake is the mirror it holds up to progressive arm-chair activists (I say this as someone who himself loves a good arm-chair and a good opinion!), revealing our own blindspots, our complacency and complicity. As a mentor of mine memorably once said to me: “everyone wants change, but nobody wants to change.” Guilty as charged. A fearless and searching moral inventory is the step most of us stumble on, after all. That the play suggests this inventory with such wit, humor and winsome charm is what makes Lisa Kron such an extraordinary writer.

Of course, In The Wake isn’t just about a political moment in our recent history, nor about the quirks of our national political psyche. It’s also a deeply personal play about the families we choose and the compromises we make to be in long-term relationship to one another (as lovers and also as friends), about a city I love that has always both drawn creatives to it and challenged them to survive, and about the potential selves we shed as we become more fully ourselves. There is a grieving we must all engage as we make our life choices. No matter how right and good those choices are, we must grieve the choice not made, the other lives not lived, the other selves not actualized. Another mentor once said the dramaturgy of all plays moves from the opening when anything is possible, to a time when one possibility becomes probable, to a time when the probable becomes inevitable. Our lives follow a similar trajectory.

In The Wake asks us to contemplate what it means to make our choices, to truly choose a path, as opposed to wanting to “have it all” (that most American of phrases), and the risks inherent in that choosing.

Perhaps we will leave here committing to our choices more fiercely, more courageously, knowing that by doing so we will surely have to change, will surely be changed.

FROM THE DIRECTOR JOSH HECHT

ABOUT PROFILE THEATRE

Founded in 1997 by Jane Unger, Profile Theatre centers a season around a single writer. Jane’s tenure established the theatre as a leading voice in Portland’s cultural scene, exploring the work of some of the 20th Centuries most important masters.

Profile’s second Artistic Director, Adriana Baer, was interested in exploring the writers we would come to think of as our “21st Century Masters,” contemporary writers investigating the most pressing concerns of our time. Josh Hecht became Artistic Director in 2017. His commitment to new work and robust community engagement has led to two new commissions in 2018-19 and our Community Profile Program that uses art-making as a means of community-building.

In 2010, Profile Theatre was awarded an inaugural “New National Theatre Company” Award from the American Theatre Wing designed to bring national attention to “the most inspiring and innovative theatre companies on our national landscape.” More recently, Profile has twice been recognized by Age and Gender Equity in the Arts for its leadership in equity, diversity and inclusion.

CAST & CREATIVE TEAM

BETH THOMPSON
Ellen
Proud to call Portland home, Beth has collaborated with many local companies as an actor, deviser, teacher and producer. Favorite roles include Woman in Tender Napalm with Dancing Brain Productions, Orlando in Orlando at Profile Theatre, Miss Julie in Miss Julie and Catherine in Suddenly Last Summer at Shaking the Tree, and Bear in The Snowstorm with Many Hats Collaboration/CoHo Theatre. Beth is grateful to return to Profile after the very fulfilling work she did here during the Sarah Ruhl season.

CHRISS MURRAY*
Danny
Chris is excited to be returning to Profile Theatre, where he performed in The Antigone Project, Sam Sheppard - Festival of One Acts, A Few Stout Individuals, The Sisters Rosensweig and Six Degrees of Separation. He has performed on stage all over town and will be appearing this season in Sense and Sensibility and Crossing Mnisose at The Armory. Thank you for supporting live theatre!

DANIELLE WEATHERS*
Kayla
Danielle is honored to join this cast and creative team. Some recent credits include: Luna Gale (CoHo), Stuck (Chapel Theatre Collective), Still Looking For Tiger Lily (Artists' Rep/Portland Shakespeare Project - Table Room Stage Series), Trails and Adrift in Macao (Broadway Rose), and Davita's Harp (JTC). She will be in Chapel Theatre Collective's upcoming joint world premiere of Friends With Guns, by Stephanie Alison Walker, in January. Danielle is a proud member of Actors' Equity Association, founder of The Reading Parlor, and Artistic Associate Director/CoHo Theatre. Beth is grateful to thank this fine group of artists on this important, timely play. Jane has performed in numerous theatres in Portland and the Bay Area over many years and has had featured roles in television commercials and series, including Leverage and Grimm. She is a guest faculty member at the Haven Institute in British Columbia, where she co-leads, with Sarah Luett, personal-development workshops using principles of actor training to deepen self-knowledge and spark creative energy.

JAMIE M. REA*
Amy
Delighted to be making her second appearance in this Lisa Kron season with Profile Theatre Project, Jamie was last seen as Dawn in The Secretaries. Favorite other local credits include: Macbeth, in Shaking the Tree Theatre's Macbeth, Kristine in STT's A Doll's House (Drummy: Best Supporting Actress), Anna in CoHo/Many Hats, The Snowstorm (Drummy Finalist: Best Actress), and later this year she can be seen as Olympe in Artists Rep's The Revolutionists. She is a co-founding Artistic Director of the Beirut Wedding World Theatre Project where she will be directing Jesus Hopped the A' Train as the close of CoHo's 23rd season.

JANE BEMENT GEESMAN
Judy
Jone is a teacher, director, and Drammy-winning actor, with almost 40 years' experience in the performing arts. This is her first appearance with Profile Theatre, and she couldn't be more delighted to work with this fine group of artists on this important, timely play. Jane has performed in numerous theatres in Portland and the Bay Area over many years and has had featured roles in television commercials and series, including Leverage and Grimm. She is a guest faculty member at the Haven Institute in British Columbia, where she co-leads, with Sarah Luett, personal-development workshops using principles of actor training to deepen self-knowledge and spark creative energy.

ALISSA JESSUP
Laurie
Alissa recently returned to the Pacific Northwest and is thrilled to make her Portland theater debut at Profile with this cast and crew! A curious raconteur with over 20 years' experience creating and working in theater, film, and television. As an actor, she has performed and developed new plays with Sundance Theatre Lab, ACT'Theatre, 13P, Soho Rep, P.S. 122, and Playwrights Horizons. Selected TV credits include the upcoming Shrink starring Aidy Bryant (Hulu), True Blood (HBO), The Mindy Project (FOX), and Grimm (NBC). She has written and performed comedy at The Upright Citizens Brigade NYC and The Groundlings Theatre in Los Angeles. Alissa is the Artistic Director of The Ape Theater, a non-profit comedy based theater and training ground in Portland, OR. www.theapetheater.org. Thank you Lisa, Josh and Danielle. Love to Mom, Dad, Chris, Coco and Pixie.

TAMERA LYN
Tessa
Southwest Atlanta native, Tamera Lyn, is setting her sights on the boundless world of creative art as a young black woman. Graduate from Florida A&M University with a Bachelor of Arts in Theatre Performance. She works as an actor, director, and writer throughout the city, both in theatre and film. Tamera is also producing her own visual work with Sunflower Creations; a production vessel that she created while studying as an undergrad. She has produced her work independently, and continues to collaborate with artists in Portland. Tamera Lyn leads with a Humble Beginning. Humble Life. Humble Spirit. Watch her bloom at tameralyn.com

DANIEL MEEKER*
Scenic Designer
Previously for Profile: Scenery for 26 Miles and during the Jane Unger years, lighting for The Young Man From Atlanta, and scenery and lighting for Great Falls, Chesapeake, Fortinbras, and At Home At The Zoo. Other Local design credits include shows for Portland Playhouse, Portland Opera, Portland Center Stage, Oregon Children’s Theater, and Artists Repertory Theater. Outside of theater, Daniel is the lighting director for the Pickathon festival and the principal designer of The American Art Fair and The Winter Antiques Show. Daniel is a graduate of Ithaca College and The Yale School of Drama, and a member of United Scenic Artists.

ELYSE GRIMALDI
Costume Designer
Elyse has a bachelor's degree in Theatre Arts from Portland State University and has worked as a costume designer in the Portland area for over four years. Her most recent work includes The Wolf with Shaking the Tree Theatre, Anna Deavere Smith's Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992 with Profile Theatre, and Pauline Viardot’s La Cendillon with the Portland State Opera. In addition to her work as a designer, Elyse enjoys participating in local historical and pop culture costuming groups such as the Time Travelers Costume Guild and the Edwardian Society of Oregon.

JEANETTE OI-SUK YEW*
Lighting & Projection Designer
Jeanette designs for a wide spectrum of performances which NY Times described as “clever” and “inventive”. Recent: KPOP!
CREATIVE TEAM (CONTINUED)

(Henry Hewes Award, Lortel and Drama Desk nominations), Gloria: A Life with Diane Paulus, Eve Ensler’s Fruit Trilogy, Relevance, Top Girls, and Informed Consent with Liesl Tommy, Aya Ogawa’s Luidy Proxy (Bel Geddes Design), Oneohtrix Point Never’s MYRIAD, The Civilians’ Paris Commune and In The Footprint, Matthew Paul Olmos’ So Go the Ghosts of Mexico Part One (NYIT Best Lighting Design nomination), Elizabeth Swados and Cecilia Rubin’s From the Fire (2011 MTM: UK Musical Theatre Awards for Best New Production), Erik Ehn’s Souligraphie: Our Genocides, and NPR’s WATER +/- with Kenny Leon.

MATT WIENS
Sound Designer
Matt is pleased to be collaborating with Profile Theater again; previous productions include last season’s Water By The Spoonful and The Happiest Song Plays Last. Big love to my family for their support and encouragement.

ELIZABETH BARRETT
Props Master
Elizabeth is extremely proud to be joining the crew of In the Wake as Properties Designer. With a degree in Fine Art from Benedictine College, Elizabeth specialized in large-scale painting. Elizabeth moved from Denver, CO last year where she taught airbrush and painted murals for the city’s parks department. Having most recently worked set and props for CoHo Production’s Philip’s Glass Menagerie and The Taming, Elizabeth is looking forward to gaining many more valuable experiences in Portland theater.

KAREN M. HILL
Stage Manager
Karen is overjoyed to be doing another show with Profile, especially with such a fabulous team. Karen also works as a Production Manager and Stage Manager with Portland Shakespeare Project, Artists Repertory Theater, Portland Opera, and The Oregon Children’s Theater. She is grateful everyday that she gets to create beautiful art, and she thanks her husband, Mike, for supporting this crazy lifestyle.

BREYDON LITTLE
Production Assistant
Breydon is thrilled to return to the stage management team for his 5th show at Profile (Twilight: Los Angeles 1992, Water by the Spoonful, Happiest Song Plays Last, Fires in the Mirror). Some of his other credits in town include A Christmas Carol, Pen/Man/Ship (Portland Playhouse); The Pride (Defunkt Theatre); Tender Napalm (Dancingbrain Productions); Jesus Christ Superstar (Street Scenes); Frost/Nixon (Bay Street Theatre). He is the current production manager at Clackamas High School and Defunkt Theatre. You can catch him next on A Naked Mole Rat Gets Dressed: A Rock Experience at Oregon Children’s Theatre.

KARL HANOVER
Dialect Coach
Karl has been involved in theater in various capacities for the last twenty three years. Previous dialect work includes Orlando, The Call, Blue Door, Antigone Project, Elliot and 26 Miles with Profile. A Christmas Carol and The Language Archive with Portland Playhouse. Hen Night Epiphany, Belfast Girls, Lifeboat, Quietly, and Hurl with Corriib Theatre; and most recently A Christmas Memory at Portland Center Stage. He received his M.F.A. in Acting from the National Theater Conservatory in Denver.

JOSS HECHT
Director
Josh is the Artistic Director of Profile Theatre where he last directed the Concert Staging of Anna Deavere Smith’s Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992 as well as the rotating repertory productions of Quiara Alegria Hudes’ Water by the Spoonful and The Happiest Song Plays Last. He is a Drama Desk Award-winning director whose productions have been seen in New York at MCC Theater, The Cherry Lane, The Duke on 42nd Street, New World Stages, Culture Project, regionally at The Guthrie Theater, the Berkshire Theatre Group, the Humana Festival at Actors Theatre of Louisville, Signature Theatre (DC) and internationally at the Dublin Arts Festival and the Edinburgh Festival Fringe and elsewhere. His collaboration with Ping Chong and Company was commissioned by and premiered at The Kennedy Center before touring the northeast. His writing has received the support of the Jerome Foundation. He is currently the Director of Playwright Development at MCC Theater and the Director of New Play Development at WET. He’s served on the faculty of the New School for Drama MFA Directing program, the Fordham University MFA Playwriting program, Purchase College SUNY’s BFA Dramatic Writing program and has been a guest artist at The Juilliard School, NYU’s Dramatic Writing MFA, Carnegie Mellon’s MFA Playwriting, University of Minnesota’s BFA Acting program and others.

LISA KRON
Writer
Lisa wrote the book and lyrics for Fun Home which won five 2015 Tony awards including Best Book, Score and Musical, and was finalist for the Pulitzer Prize. Her other plays include In The Wake, Well, 2.5 Minute Ride (Obie). As an actor she received a Tony nomination for her performance in Well and a Lortel Award for her turn as Mrs. Mi-Tzu and Mrs. Yang in the Foundry’s acclaimed production of Good Person of Szechuan. She is the recipient of Guggenheim, Sundance and MacDowell fellowships, a Doris Duke Performing Arts Award, Cal Arts/Alpert and Helen Merrill Awards, the Kleban Prize, and grants from Creative Capital and NYFA. She is a founding member of the OBIE- and Bessie-Award-winning collaborative theater company The Five Lesbian Brothers and serves on the boards of the MacDowell Colony and the Sundance Institute, and on the Council of the Dramatists Guild of America.

Mission: To produce a season of first-class productions and community engagement activities centered around a single writer whose vision broadens our perspective on our world and deepens our collective compassion.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION INITIATIVE

In 2016, Profile Theatre launched its Diversity and Inclusion initiative, committing to three consecutive seasons producing the work of women and writers of color. The Initiative was born out of a desire to correct a persistent imbalance in the diversity and complexity of lives we see reflected on our stages. It is our belief that by actively working to correct this imbalance in our own programming, we more accurately reflect the world around us, produce work of increasing relevance to our city and community, and help dream into being the dynamic and inclusive world we want. We also believe that by continuing to program the most accomplished mid-career writers of our time, all members of our audience, whatever their background, will recognize themselves in these stories.

NEXT: An exciting addition to our season!

Commissioned by Profile Theatre from National Medal of Arts Awardee Ping Chong + Company, (UN)CONDITIONAL uses real stories told by the Portland residents who live them to examine the experience of living with chronic illness or caring for someone who does.

This In Dialogue production uses stories from our own community to amplify themes found in the work of Lisa Kron and Anna Deavere Smith.

Our world-premier commission is made possible in large part by an $85,000 Creative Heights grant from the Oregon Community Foundation, awarded to support innovation and creative risk-taking and the merger of world-renown artists and local community stories.
