

WORLD PREMIERE COMMISSION

Profile Theatre is honored to commission a World Premier original work from Ping Chong + Company to join our season as an In Dialogue Production.

Lead by their Associate Director Sara Zatz, this production is a community-specific interview-based work of theater examining issues of chronic illness, caregiving and healthcare.

The work will feature stories of three members of our Community Profile program, along with those of health-care practitioners and policy-makers, co-created and performed by the participants themselves.

This project is made possible by a Creative Heights grant from the Oregon Community Foundation and funding from the National Endowment for the Arts.

Ping Chong is an interdisciplinary artist and theatrical innovator based in New York City.

Ping was honored with the National Medal of Arts, the highest award given to artists by the United States government, in 2014 by President Obama.

Ping Chong + Company produces works addressing the important cultural and civic issues of our times, creating theater that crosses boundaries of identity, community, and form.

Productions range from intimate oral history projects to grand scale cinematic multidisciplinary productions. The art reveals beauty, precision, and a commitment to social justice.

COMMUNITY PROFILE

Thank You
For Attending!

PROFILETHEATRE.ORG

A year-long writing workshop and community-building space influenced by the work of our main stage writers.

This year's program follows the themes in the work of Lisa Kron and Anna Deavere Smith and is for those living with chronic illness, their family and caregivers.

Participants attend monthly writing workshops with award-winning writers, cultivating their own creative voices and using writing as a springboard for conversation and community-building.

A cohort of 40 participants have been gathering monthly since January 2018 and will continue until the season's end in June 2019.
